Disclaimer

Please note that this guide has been written as a resource to help Afghan nationals and their family members understand and access the Afghan Relocations and Assistance Policy (ARAP) scheme and does not constitute legal advice. While it is always preferable to seek specific legal advice for your particular circumstances, this guide is intended to help when it is not possible to obtain legal advice.

Following this guide does not guarantee that your application will be successful. For this reason, we encourage you to seek legal advice. It is impossible to cover all aspects of the ARAP scheme and this guide therefore only covers the key points. See the Further Resources section at the end of this guide for more information on ARAP, including the UK Government guidance on ARAP and the Immigration Rules Appendix ARAP.

UPDATES

The UK Government made changes to the ARAP scheme in early 2025. This guide (version 3) has been updated to reflect them. The updates relate to:

Introducing new eligibility questions on the ARAP application form.

Previously, you would be taken straight to the application form asking you to input your details. Now, the revised form first asks whether you are an Afghan citizen and whether you are awaiting the outcome of a pending ARAP application. The updated ARAP application form is included at Appendix 1. Further details on preparing an ARAP application can be found in Section 2.1 (Process of preparing an application).

How to add additional family members to your ARAP application.

Previously, additional family members could be added to your application once you were deemed eligible by the ARAP Team. Now, you must first receive an ARAP offer letter, and then submit an application for additional family members (sent to you by the DARR Team) within 30 days of your offer letter. Further details can be found at Section 4.2 (Application Process for Additional Family Members).

About the Afghan Pro Bono Initiative

This self-help guide has been developed by the Afghan Pro Bono Initiative (APBI). APBI is a project delivered jointly by Refugee Legal Support and Safe Passage International in collaboration with 10 leading commercial law firms.

The project is a response to the increased need for Afghan nationals and their family members to be able to access information, legal advice and representation in relation to safe routes to the UK, following the Taliban takeover.

APBI's individual casework is focused upon delivering high-quality legal advice, signposting, and representation in a range of cases, including family reunion, the ARAP scheme, the Afghan Citizens Resettlement Scheme and others. You can sign up to the APBI newsletter here for updates to the Afghan UK resettlement schemes, ministerial updates on Afghan refugees and updates on APBI services for Afghans.

Please note that APBI is not part of the UK Government or the ARAP casework team and cannot decide or have any influence over the decisions of the UK Government in ARAP applications.

Who is this guide for?

This guide is for Afghans who are eligible to apply under the Afghan Relocations and Assistance Policy (ARAP) and want to submit an application or seek a review of an ARAP refusal.

The guide is intended to help anyone with a non-legal background to prepare and submit an application without requiring support from a legal advisor.

Feedback

We would really appreciate feedback on this guide. If you have any comments, questions or suggestions on this guide, please share these with us via this form.

Acknowledgement

This version of the guide was developed with the invaluable cooperation of seven volunteer lawyers from Allen Overy Shearman Sterling LLP, who generously invested their knowledge, expertise, and time into preparing this guide.

We deeply appreciate the contributions of Laetitia Nappert-Rosales, Louise Mitchell and Daria Grigorieva.

We especially extend our appreciation to Laetitia Nappert-Rosales and Louise Mitchell for leading the team of volunteers, as well as for their efforts in revising and updating the guide.

We greatly appreciate John Demanuele's efforts for his thoughtful and creative ideas in designing the guide, which have significantly enhanced its readability and accessibility.

We are truly grateful for the dedication and hard work of everyone involved in making this guide a valuable resource.

Chapter 1

What is ARAP and who can apply?

1.1 What is ARAP?¹

The ARAP scheme is for Afghan citizens who worked for or with the UK Government in Afghanistan and are at serious risk from the Taliban. The ARAP scheme allows eligible Afghan citizens to apply to the UK Government for relocation to the UK. Eligible individuals may relocate to the UK with a partner and dependent children. Other family members may also be included in exceptional circumstances. The ARAP scheme was launched by the UK Government in April 2021 and remains open. As at the date of this guide, there is no limit on the number of people who can relocate under the ARAP scheme.

The flowchart shows the steps required to complete your application.

¹ Immigration Rules ARAP 3.1 – 3.7

1.2 Who can apply for assistance under ARAP?

ARAP is open to any Afghan citizen aged 18 or above who is or has been employed directly by the UK Government (and some contractors) in Afghanistan at any point since 1 October 2001 and who is assessed to be at serious risk of threat to life.

Eligibility for ARAP is not impacted by your employment status, rank or role or length of time served.

You may be unable to apply under ARAP if you were dismissed from your job, unless you were dismissed for a minor reason. If you were made redundant by a UK Government department, or resigned because of the UK's military withdrawal from Afghanistan, you may still be eligible under ARAP.

An ARAP application can be made from any country (including from within the UK). If you meet the ARAP criteria, you will be able to apply for indefinite leave to enter the UK.

If you are already in the UK with indefinite leave to enter or remain or you already have British citizenship, you are not eligible under ARAP and you cannot apply for family members or additional family members to join you under ARAP. If you arrived in the UK via another immigration route and have limited leave or you have an outstanding application for leave under another route, you can still apply under ARAP if you meet the ARAP criteria. You may want to do this to convert your immigration status to indefinite leave to remain.

If you have multiple wives or husbands

You can only include one partner in your ARAP application. If you have more than one partner, only one of your partners can apply to come to, or remain, in the UK.

If the eligible Afghan citizen is dead

If the person who would meet the ARAP criteria is dead, living family members may be able to apply under ARAP on a concessionary basis. If the person who died has applied under the ARAP scheme before they died, then the living family members will be considered for the ARAP scheme on a concessionary basis if:

- the family members and additional family members were included in the application;
- the person who has died was deemed eligible by the ARAP Team for relocation to the UK (including where the decision was made after the person died); and
- the application process and the Immigration Rules' requirements for relocation to the UK are otherwise met.

If the person who died did not submit an application under the ARAP scheme before they died then the living family members will be considered for the ARAP scheme on a concessionary basis if:

- the person who has died would have been deemed eligible for relocation to the UK under the ARAP scheme; and
- the application process and the Immigration Rules' requirements for relocation to the UK are otherwise met.

In addition, the bereaved family must:

- provide evidence that the eligible person is deceased;
- provide evidence of how each family member is related to the deceased person; and
- demonstrate that the death of the eligible person has had a direct impact upon the level of risk they face or their level of vulnerability.

If you have an under-18 partner

If your partner is under 18 years old at the time you make the application then your partner is not eligible under the ARAP scheme as a partner so they will not be able to apply to come to, or remain in, the UK. Even if the partner is an additional family member (as further detailed below), if they are under 18 years old at the date of the application, they cannot be entitled to support or relocation under ARAP as a partner.

If you and your partner married when one or both of you were under 18 but now you are both 18 or over, your marriage will only be recognised if:

- the marriage was valid in the country in which it took place; and
- you and your partner had the legal capacity to marry each other under the law of the country where you were married.

If you or your partner are pregnant

A child who is born after the ARAP application is made will be considered under the ARAP scheme as if they were born at the date of the application if the following conditions apply:

- you applied under the ARAP before the child was born;
- if you are the father of the child, then the mother of the child was included in the application as a family member or additional family member;
- you and (if you are the father of the child) the child's mother were deemed eligible for relocation to the UK including where that decision was made before the child was born; and
- the application process and the ARAP Immigration Rules for relocation to the UK are otherwise met.

1.3 ARAP categories

There are four different categories of eligible ARAP cases.

There is a possibility of relocation in the UK for three of the four categories.

	COHORT	ASSISTANCE OFFERED
CATEGORY 1	High risk / imminent risk	Urgent relocation
CATEGORY 2	Eligible for relocation by default	Routine relocation
CATEGORY 3	Not eligible for relocation	Other support offered
CATEGORY 4	Special cases	Case-by-case basis

CATEGORY 1

There is a high or imminent risk

This category applies if, at any time since 1 October 2001:

- (a) you have been directly employed in Afghanistan by a UK Government department (eg, Ministry of Defence, Foreign Office etc); and
- (b) there is a high and imminent risk of a threat to your life because you held this job. This could include, for example, physical violence or intimidation because of the role you hold, or previously held, with the UK Government department.

Evidence examples:

Your employment contract, photos of your work or letters or emails between colleagues.

Evidence examples:

Taliban threat letters or messages (including night threat letters (shabnama)), photos or videos of physical violence against you, such as videos of Taliban officers hurting you or photos of your injuries.

CATEGORY 2

You held an exposed meaningful enabling role

This category applies if, at any time since 1 October 2001:

- (a) you have been directly employed in Afghanistan by a UK Government department, or were employed to provide linguistic services (eg, translator) in support of the UK's Armed Forces;
- (b) had you not performed the role, the UK's operations in Afghanistan would have been materially less efficient or successful. In other words, you must be able to show that your role helped the UK's operations in Afghanistan; and
- (c) you are publicly recognised as having performed the job and, as a result, your personal safety is at risk.

Evidence examples:

Your employment contract, any reports you produced as part of your work that you still have access to, photos of your work, letters or emails between colleagues or training certificates provided by your employer.

Evidence examples:

UK Government policy or strategy papers that relate to your area of work.

Evidence examples:

Photos or newspaper clips showing that your job was well known within your local community or letters/messages with threats of violence or intimidation because of the job you held (including night threat letters (shabnama)).

CATEGORY 3

You do not fall within Category 1 or 2, but are entitled to support other than relocation

This category applies if you are not eligible for Category 1 or 2 because there is not a high and imminent risk of threat to your life and/or you have not had an exposed meaningful enabling role.

If you fall in this category then you are not eligible for relocation but you may be eligible for other support. See the 'Further Resources' section at the end of this guide.

CATEGORY 4

Your case does not fall within Category 1 or 2, but there are special factors which mean you may still be eligible for relocation

If you do not fall within Category 1 or 2, you still may be eligible for relocation if you satisfy certain criteria. This Category 4 can apply where there are special factors supporting your application. However, it is a difficult category to prove and you have to meet each of the three criteria listed below:

(a) at any time since 1 October 2001, you did the following in Afghanistan:

- (i) you were directly employed by a UK Government department; or
- (ii) you provided goods or services to a UK Government department (eg, translation services); or
- (iii) you worked alongside, in partnership with, or closely supported a UK Government department;

Evidence examples:

Your employment contract, any reports you produced as part of your work that you still have access to, photos of your work or letters or emails between colleagues.

(b) in the course of that employment or work, you made a substantive and positive contribution towards the UK Government's military objectives in Afghanistan, or the UK Government's national security objectives (eg, counter terrorism, anti-corruption, counter-narcotics objectives, etc); and

Evidence examples:

Witness statements from your employer or previous colleagues describing in detail the type of work you did, your role and how you worked with UK colleagues or departments, letters of support from UK colleagues confirming the type of work you did or any UK Government policy documents relating to the objectives you were working to achieve as part of your employment.

(c) because of that employment or work, you are or were at an elevated risk of attack or high risk of death or serious injury. Alternatively, you hold information which would give rise to a specific threat to the UK Government or its interests.

Evidence examples:

Witness statements from your employer or previous colleagues regarding any incidents or threats, threat letters (including night threat letters (shabnama)) or letters from UK colleagues regarding the risk.

Chapter 2

How to prepare and put in an application

2.1 Process of preparing an application

In order to apply under ARAP, you must complete an application form online. This form is available here. For reference, a copy of the full application form can be found at Appendix 1 but you must complete it online by following the link above. You will need to provide evidence alongside the application.

As collecting the information and evidence can take time, you should start gathering evidence to support your application as soon as possible.

Please note that the online form cannot be saved and revisited, so you will need to complete it in one sitting. Make sure you collect the information listed below before starting your application.

Evidence and details that you must have for the application form are:

- Confirmation that you are over 18
- Full name (as it appears on your passport or, if you do not have a passport, as it appears on your ID documentation). If you do not have a passport or ID documentation, provide your full name as you prefer it to be spelt
- Father's full name
- Your email address
- Your contact number
- Your current country of residence
- The number of family members applying to relocate with you
- Whether you are applying under ARAP category 4, and
- The industry or sector of your current or former job.

The following information is not mandatory, but if you have some or all of this information, you should include it in the application form:

- LSU, CISS Number or Staff Number
- Tazkira Number, and
- Passport Number.

Once you submit your application form, the DARR Team (a team within the Ministry of Defence) will review your application and check your eligibility. You are likely to be asked to provide further information on your role, including:

- the industry or sector of the role title
- whether you were directly employed by the UK Government
- details of your employer
- employment start date
- whether you are still employed and, if not, your reason for leaving
- where your employment was based.

Once you have submitted your application form, you will be contacted by the DARR Team and may be asked for further information, including to confirm the family members (and additional family members) who will relocate with you. You will need to provide details of these family members, such as their names, dates of birth, nature and extent of dependencies and risks, and information relevant to accommodation needs in the UK. You have to reply to further information requested by the UK Government within 42 days from the request for information. If you do not respond within 42 days, your application may be rejected. If you are applying under Category 4 as you do not meet the requirements of Category 1 or 2 and you require relocation, it may be helpful to also submit a statement with your application form which provides additional information about your circumstances.

Appendix 2 includes a template that you may wish to use.

2.2 Grounds for refusal²

You or your family members may not be permitted to relocate to the UK if you trigger any of the grounds for refusal. The grounds for refusal are reasons under the UK Immigration Rules that set out when applications for relocation may be automatically refused. These generally involve having committed serious criminal offences and are unlikely to apply in most cases but you should be aware of them.

Certain grounds for refusal are automatic³ and you or your family member (as applicable) will not be able to relocate or remain in the UK if any of these circumstances apply. These include:

Crime

Where you or your family member:

- has been convicted of a crime (in the UK or overseas) and was imprisoned for 12 months or more;
- is a persistent offender who shows a particular disregard for the law; or
- has committed a criminal offence which caused serious harm.

Deception

You or your family member used deception in the application (ie the application includes statements that hide the truth).

Other grounds of refusal are not automatic⁴ but could disqualify you or your family member (as applicable) from entering or remaining in the UK. These include circumstances where:

Crime

You or your family member has been convicted of a crime (in the UK or overseas) and was imprisoned for 12 months or less as a result.

Sham/false marriage

You or your family member was involved in a sham marriage or sham civil partnership (meaning the relationship was entered into for immigration reasons by two people who are not a real couple).

False statements

You or your family member made false statements or provided false documents in order to obtain documents to support the application to enter the UK or information even if you/they did not know that these statements, documents or information were false.

3.1 Which family members can relocate under ARAP?⁵

If you are eligible under ARAP, your application can only include the following family members:

- your partner (who qualifies as a partner is explained below);
- any of your children who are under 18; and
- any of your partner's children who are under 18.

All of the family members who are seeking to relocate with you must be included in the application at the time the application is made. If you do not include them in the original application, they cannot be considered at a later date under ARAP.

If you have more than one partner, only one of your partners can apply to come to, or remain, in the UK.

If you include your parent, siblings or extended family members, they will be considered under the additional family members policy. For further information on additional family members, see Chapter 4.

3.2 Who qualifies as a partner under ARAP?⁶

A partner can be your wife, your husband, your civil partner, your fiancé or proposed civil partner or someone you have been living together with in a relationship like a marriage for at least two years before making the application. Your marriage or civil partnership must be recognised by law in the country in which it took place. Any such partner must:

- be aged 18 or over at the date of the application;
- not be a close family relative (eg, a grandparent, a parent, a sibling, a half-sibling, a child, a niece or a nephew, or adoptive parents and children);
- have met you in person;
- be in a genuine and ongoing relationship with you; and
- intend to live with you permanently in the UK.

3.3 Who qualifies as a child under ARAP?⁷

A child can be someone under 18 at the date of the application who falls under any of the below categories:

- your and your partner's (as defined above) dependent child; or
- the other parent of the child is dead or you have sole responsibility for raising the child; or
- the parent applying under ARAP has sole responsibility for raising the child; or
- one parent is a British citizen or a person who has a right to enter or stay in the UK without restriction; and is or will be ordinarily resident in the UK.

Any child must:

- not be married or in a civil partnership;
- not be living an independent life or have formed their own family (eg, left the family home to live with a partner, had their own children); and
- still rely on their parents (eg, not have their own source of income, live apart from the family).

⁵ Immigration Rule ARAP 10.2

⁶ Immigration Rule ARAP 11

⁷ Immigration Rule ARAP 12

3.4 Can you apply for an adopted child under ARAP?⁸

If you have an adopted child, that child can apply as your dependent child under ARAP if the child may either has been formally adopted in accordance with the courts of your country of origin (and that adoption is recognised under UK law) or there is a de facto adoption.

For de facto adoption to apply, you (when you have sole responsibility for the child) or you and your partner, must have been resident overseas for at least 18 months and:

- the child must have lived with you or you and your partner for a period of 12 months immediately before you made your application; and
 - you or you and your partner must have taken on the role of the child's parents since the beginning of the 18-month period so that there has been a genuine transfer of parental responsibility.
- In addition, the adopted child must:
- be treated the same as any other child of yours or your partner's; and
 - have been adopted as the child's parents cannot care for them; and
 - have broken all ties with their original family; and
 - have been adopted, but not just so that they can gain access to the UK.

3.5 What evidence must be provided for family members?

When applying and including your partner and/or your children in your application, it will help to provide evidence to prove that they are your partner and/or children within the meaning of the above.

The main way to evidence the relationship would be through your marriage certificate, any birth certificate and Tazkiras.

In the initial application, you may not be required to show proof that someone is your child or partner, but if you are accepted under the scheme, you will be asked for this evidence. If you do not have these documents, consider if there is any other evidence you could use, such as photographs of your wedding or any other family photographs or statements from your family members or whether you could safely obtain any documents which prove the relationship. See Chapter 5 for more details.

3.6 Changes to an applicant's family during the ARAP application process

If, after submitting your ARAP application, you get married or have a child, you should contact and inform ARAP Team as soon as possible.

Chapter 4

Additional family members

If you are eligible to relocate to the UK through ARAP, you can also apply to relocate certain additional family members to the UK. Additional family members will be considered under the main Immigration Rules of ARAP (the additional family member rules or AFM rules). Family members not included in your ARAP application can still apply to come to the UK under the ARAP, and will be considered on an exceptional basis outside the ARAP Immigration Rules.

The information in this Chapter 4 applies to additional family members, in other words family members who are not eligible for relocation through the ARAP process set out in Chapter 3. Examples of additional family members are adult parents, adult children or siblings of the ARAP applicant.

4.1 Conditions to apply under the AFM rules – Eligible additional family member⁹

Under the AFM rules, you may apply for any family member who is not a partner or dependent child under 18 to be allowed to relocate with you. See Chapter 3 for details on who qualifies as your partner and dependent child. The family member must be a relative of you or your partner. The family member cannot be an additional partner.

They must also meet one or both of the criteria listed below:

- (a) as a result of your work for or with a UK Government department, your additional family member is at an elevated risk of targeted attacks, specific threats or intimidation; putting them at a high risk of death or serious injury; or
- (b) your family member has additional vulnerabilities and meets the following conditions:
 - (i) there are specific vulnerabilities faced by your family member;
 - (ii) those specific vulnerabilities have led to an exceptional level of family dependence on you;
 - (iii) your family member would be unable to get the required level of care or protection in Afghanistan;and either:
 - (iv) the reason why your family member cannot get the required level of care or protection in Afghanistan is because the required level of care or protection is not available and there is no person there who can reasonably provide it; or
 - (v) the reason why the family member cannot get the required level of care or protection in Afghanistan is because the required level of care or protection is not affordable.

If the additional family member is a child applying without their parents as additional family members there are some additional criteria:

- (a) you or your partner must be their legal guardian; or
- (b) they must have one parent resident in the UK who is British or has a right to be in the UK without restriction; or
- (c) there must be "serious and compelling reasons" to grant the application for them to join you and your partner. An example of "serious and compelling reasons" could be a child who has been separated from their biological parents and has been practically (although not formally) adopted by the main applicant under ARAP.

Please note that the ARAP Team is viewing applications for additional family members under the scheme very narrowly. If your additional family member does not meet the criteria set out in this Chapter 4, it is very unlikely that your family member will be accepted.

⁹ Immigration Rule 13

High risk to safety

The application of an additional family member will need to show that they are at "elevated risk" of targeted attacks, specific threats or intimidation that put them at risk of "death or serious injury". The application will only be considered if there are genuine and verifiable reasons relating to your family member's safety and security as a result of your work with the UK Government.

The Government department or unit you worked with or alongside will be asked for their assessment as to whether your employment put your additional family member at risk. Some examples of reasons are as follows:

- If there have been specific threats or intimidation to your family member as a result of your work. For example, you or your additional family member may have received threatening letters or phone calls from the Taliban as a result of your work with the UK Government.
- If your additional family members have been targeted through house to house searches related to your work and are in hiding from the Taliban as a result.

The risk must be specific to the relevant family member and must relate to your work undertaken with the UK Government.

Specific vulnerability and dependency

The application of an additional family member will need to show that they have specific vulnerabilities that have resulted in an exceptional level of family dependence. For example, a serious medical condition for which your additional family member is: (i) unable to obtain treatment or requires long-term personal care; and (ii) financially dependent on you. Medical evidence will be required in support of this. Even with your practical and financial help, the additional family member must not be able to obtain the required care or protection outside the UK – either because this is not affordable or because it is not available and no other person can reasonably provide it.

Other compelling reasons

In order to succeed in applying for your additional family members you will need to show the evidence of security concerns or additional vulnerabilities set out above.

If you are applying for a child on their own you will also need to show "serious and compelling reasons" why they should be located with you.

An example of "serious and compelling reasons" would be that the child is currently being neglected or abused and their needs are not currently being met.

For all family members it is worth including any other "genuine, verifiable, compelling reasons" for why your family member should be relocated with you.

4.2 Application process for additional family members

When to apply

Your additional family members should be named in your initial ARAP application. If you have not done this and you are still waiting for an initial decision, contact the ARAP Team as soon as possible to request to add your additional family members to your application.

Before they make their decision, you will be asked by the DARR Team to confirm certain details of the family members who will relocate with you within 42 days of the request for information (see Chapter 2.1).

From 5 June 2025, once you have responded to your ARAP offer letter, you have 30 days from the date you respond, to submit an Additional Family Member application (AFM Application) provided by the DARR Team for the additional family members that wish to relocate with you. This rule applies even if you received your offer letter prior to 5 June 2025.

You must ensure that the AFM Application is submitted within this time as applications will not be accepted outside this period unless there are compelling circumstances which have prevented you from meeting the deadline.

After you have sent the AFM Application, you will be contacted by the UK Government to submit further information. The email will be from a gov.uk email address. You have 14 days to respond to requests for information, otherwise the application will likely be rejected.

Who can apply?

The application must be made by you, as the applicant eligible under the ARAP scheme, and not by your family members or any other person. A lawyer or caseworker may submit the form for you (if you have one), but the application must be made in your name.

When can additional family members travel to the UK

Your additional family members must be granted entry clearance before travelling to the UK. This may mean that you arrive in the UK at a different time to your family members.

If they are approved under the AFM rules your family member will be supported to fill out a visa form to come to the UK.

However, currently, this cannot happen from within Afghanistan.

If your additional family members are seeking to join you after you have already relocated to the UK under ARAP, and they were not included in your original ARAP application and the AFM form was not submitted within 30 days of you receiving your offer letter, they will need to apply to the Home Office for clearance or permission to stay in the UK under the existing Immigration Rules.

If your family members are accepted, they should communicate with the UK team to safely travel to a third country to be evacuated to the UK.

If they are unable to safely obtain documents or leave the third country, they should seek the advice of the DARR Team, who will be assisting with evacuation.

Chapter 5

Gathering evidence

If you do not have the evidence set out in this guide, this does not prevent you from applying under ARAP, provided that you can explain why documents are not available to be provided as evidence.

Some examples as to why you may not have the evidence are as follows:

- you may never have had these documents issued;
- you may have destroyed them for your own safety; or
- you may not have taken them with you when you left Afghanistan.

5.1 Submitting a subject access request

If you do not have any documents that evidence your work with the UK Government you can consider submitting a Subject Access Request (SAR) to the UK's Ministry of Defence or the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office.

A SAR is a request for a copy of your personal information. You have the right to ask for a copy of your personal information held by UK organisations (including the UK Government) as well as information about how your personal information is being used. Your personal information is any information relating to you that can identify you directly (eg, your name, your employment certificates) or indirectly (eg, a reference number relating to you).

For example, if you worked for a UK Government department, they may have records relating to your prior employment or involvement with the British army or the UK Government, such as your employment contract or certificate, or emails or messages with you or about you. You can request this information by submitting a SAR and this may be helpful evidence you can submit as part of your ARAP application to show that you worked for a UK Government department.

There is no formal process to submit a SAR and you do not need to be in the UK to submit one. You can submit a SAR yourself by email or over the phone and you do not need a lawyer to do this for you. If you want someone else to submit a SAR on your behalf, you need to give them written permission (eg, in an email).

The UK Government has to get back to you within one month and they may request proof of ID and a proof of address to be able to verify you. They should explain to you if they cannot give you the personal information you are requesting and why. Remember to check your spam or junk folder for a response.

Guidance on how to submit a SAR, and what to include, can be found here. Guidance suggests including the following information in a SAR:

- a subject line or header that says "subject access request";
- the date you're making the request;
- your name (and any other names where relevant, eg, your name before you were married);
- your email address and phone number;
- your staff number, if you have it;
- what personal information you want. Be specific about the information you're asking for, and where relevant say what information you don't need. This will help the organisation or UK Government find the information you are looking for. For example, you could request a copy of your employment contract or correspondence with you or about you;
- details or dates that will help the organisation find the information you want. For example, include the dates that you were employed by the UK Government;
- the reason you want the information. For example, that you require the personal information for the purpose of submitting evidence for your ARAP application; and
- how you would like to receive the information (eg, electronically or printed and sent by post) and if you have any accessibility requirements (eg, large fonts).

You can make a SAR to the Ministry of Defence here. You could also submit a SAR to the Ministry of Defence for an update on the status of your ARAP application.

If you worked with the UK Government but not with the British army, you can submit a SAR to the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office by emailing them at information.rights@fcdo.gov.uk.

5.2 Evidence for your application under ARAP

See Chapter 1 for examples of evidence you need for your ARAP application.

5.3 Evidence for family members and additional family members

You will need to provide evidence of your family members' relationship with you and if you are applying with an additional family member, evidence to support the compelling reasons why that additional family member must relocate to the UK with you.

It is recommended that you include evidence to support each factual statement in your application.

Evidence of family relationship

You must provide evidence to prove your family member's relationship to you, as the applicant under the ARAP scheme.

For example, you could provide birth certificates, death certificates, marriage certificates etc. If possible, you should get these documents translated into English by a certified translator as it will likely be that the ARAP Team will request certified translations if you are successful.

If you cannot provide these documents, you must explain in the application form why you cannot provide the documents and make sure that you explain the relationship with each family member on your witness statement.

Evidence of risk, vulnerability and compelling reasons

You must provide evidence of the compelling reasons why you believe your additional family member should relocate to the UK.

To evidence a high risk to safety, you could provide photos, screen shots or video or audio recordings of the relevant threats and/or intimidation. It is important when evidencing any security threat that this is linked to your employment with or alongside a UK Government department. You could include a witness statement to explain this or provide supporting letters from any UK colleagues who can testify that this threat was related to your work.

To evidence that your family member has a specific vulnerability or dependency, you could include medical evidence, such as doctor's letters showing appointments or diagnoses and proof of medication prescriptions. Previous guidance stated that medical conditions will need to be evidenced by a supporting diagnosis from a medical professional detailing any health conditions and their impact on the individual and associated care. A letter from a doctor including this information would help with your application.

To demonstrate that your family member cannot get the required level of care or protection in Afghanistan as the level of care or protection is not available or affordable and there is no person who can reasonably provide it, you can provide supporting medical letters if appropriate.

Witness statements

You may want to ask your family member or any other relevant individuals to provide a witness statement in support of the application. A witness statement can be helpful as evidence to show that those specific vulnerabilities faced by your family member have led to an exceptional level of family dependence.

5.4 Evidence FAQs

What if I don't have official documents showing my work with the UK Government?

Where you do not have official documents evidencing your work with the UK Government or the Ministry of Defence (or you would like to include additional evidence), letters of congratulations or Christmas cards from British army colleagues, and any other unofficial documents you have which would evidence your work, can also be included in your application.

What if I don't have a staffing number?

Staffing numbers did not exist prior to 2006/2007, therefore these cannot be provided if you worked for the UK Government or MoD prior to this date. Staffing numbers are currently optional on the ARAP application form but if these are requested by the ARAP or DARR Team as part of the ARAP process, you should provide the explanation that these numbers did not exist.

What if I have two badge numbers?

If you have two badge numbers, provide the details of the badge worn inside the base rather than the details of the badge worn outside of the base.

What if I cannot get hold of any documents for me or my family members?

You and your family members will require some form of ID. If you do not have ID, you should consider applying for one (eg, apply for a passport or Tazkira). If you do not have the documents being requested by the UK Government you should explain why. The UK Government understands that not everyone will have access to all documents requested, but the more evidence you provide, the more chance you have for your application to be successful.

Chapter 6

Following submission of your ARAP Application

6.1 How to follow up with your ARAP application

Your application reference numbers

Your application will be granted a reference number by the ARAP Team.

We understand that:

- if the application number begins with “ATAE”, this means it has been received. After that, the ARAP Team would change the reference number to begin with either “M” or “R”;
- if the application number begins with “M”, this is an eligible application made between 1 April 2021 and 31 August 2021; and
- if the application number begins with “R”, this is an eligible application made from 1 September 2021 onwards.

Writing to a member of parliament

If you have any friends, family or other contacts in the UK, you could ask them to write to their Member of Parliament (MP) to ask for assistance with your application. Further details on how to do this are set out here. You may wish to share this link with them.

Your contact in the UK should write to their MP (by letter or email) and include relevant details of:

- themselves (the person writing to their MP); and
- you (the person applying under the ARAP scheme), including details about your application (including your reference number, as set out above), the date it was submitted and the delay in your application and your background (such as your work with the UK Government and why you are eligible for relocation).

Though applicants outside of the UK may try and contact an MP, this is unlikely to prove successful as MPs are focused on their UK constituents specifically.

We do not recommend sending regular emails to follow up on your application. There is no evidence that this speeds up your application.

6.2 Preparing for evacuation

If possible and if safe to do so, take steps to prepare for an evacuation in the event your application is accepted. You should make sure that you and each family member who is relocating to the UK has a valid passport and a visa if it is safe to do so.

We cannot advise on you obtaining visas to travel to Pakistan (where most ARAP applicants transit through) but it can be worth checking and making preparations for travel if you can safely do so.

Once you are accepted under ARAP, you will be sent an offer by the DARR Team to accept if you want to relocate to the UK.

The DARR Team will ask for copies of any missing documents, including translations, so try to have these ready.

The ARAP Team sometimes assist applicants with leaving Afghanistan, however this is usually after they have all the documents needed. They can also assist with visas to Pakistan if you are unable to obtain them. You will need to let them know as soon as possible if you need assistance leaving Afghanistan. Once you have travelled or been evacuated into Pakistan, the British High Commission should support you with accommodation and with your application for an onward visa to the UK.

This process will be much quicker if you already have a passport and permission to be in Pakistan. If you have requested evacuation from the ARAP Team you will be contacted by a separate team who will request copies of your documents to assist obtaining visas and will help you to evacuate. This can come at very short notice.

Once you have been evacuated to the UK, you may be housed in initial hotel accommodation until you are found permanent accommodation in the UK, but it is possible you will go directly to permanent accommodation. Under ARAP, you will be granted indefinite leave to remain in the UK and have full access to benefits, education, healthcare and the right to work.

6.3 Updating the ARAP casework team

If you have managed to leave Afghanistan safely, please contact the ARAP Team to let them know that you have done so and your current location.

Chapter 7

What to do if your application is refused

7.1 Circumstances where you may seek review of the decision to refuse your ARAP application

If your application is rejected or you are deemed ineligible under ARAP (or your AFM Application was rejected), you will receive a letter confirming this from the UK Government. You have the right to seek a review of the decision if you:

- believe that the decision was not made in accordance with the ARAP scheme (ie, the policy); and/or
- are able to provide new evidence to support your case that was not available when the decision was made.

If neither of the above apply, unfortunately a review is unlikely to be considered.

If your application for ARAP (or AFM Application) is rejected and you have the right to seek a review of the decision, it is advisable that you submit a review, not a new application.

If you do not request a review within 90 days of receiving the refusal letter, your request will not be considered unless there are exceptional circumstances.

7.2 Process to request an initial review

Online application form

To request a review of the decision, you will need to complete an online form on the UK Government's website, which is available here.

When completing the online form, you must provide the following:

- your first name (ie, your given name)
- your surname (ie, your family name)
- an email address
- a telephone number
- your father's full name
- whether the review is for yourself or additional family members
- the date of the letter rejecting your application
- the Unique Reference Number (URN) on your letter of the Decision. Your URN will look like this: ATAE-xxxx, Rxxxxx, Mxxxx
- the reason why you would like your application to be reviewed

For this response you may select either one or both of the reasons.
The example below shows where both options have been selected.

8. Why would you like your application to be reviewed? *

چرا می خواهید درخواست شما بررسی شود؟

تاسو ولې غواړئ چې ستاسو غوښتنلیک بیاکتنه وشي؟

موافق نیستم که پرونده من مطابق با خط مشی به درستی بررسی شده باشد
زه موافق نه یم چې زما قضیه د پالیسی سره سم په سمه توګه په پام کې نیول شوې ده

من اطلاعات جدیدی دارم که هنوز در نظر گرفته نشده است
زه نوي معلومات لرم چې لا تر اوسه په پام کې نه دي نیول شوي

☒ 1. I do not agree my case has been properly considered in accordance with the policy

☒ 2. I have new information that has not yet been considered.

After you have sent the review form, you will be contacted by the UK Government to request further information. The email will be from a gov.uk email address. You have 14 days to respond to requests for information, otherwise the application will be assessed using only the information already held.

If you believe that the decision was not made in accordance with the ARAP scheme, you should explain why when you respond to the UK Government email, by referring back to the ARAP scheme.

Examples of information you might want to include are:

- whether you feel the assessment of risk to you has been made in accordance with the ARAP scheme;
- whether the definition of 'working closely alongside' has been incorrectly applied; or
- whether your work has been correctly assessed as being part of the national security objectives.

If you can supply new evidence to support your application that was not available when the decision was made, you should describe what information you will be able to provide.

7.3 If your review is rejected

If the decision is reviewed and does not change, it may be worth submitting a new application which you can do using the online form on the UK Government's website, which is available here.

Please see Chapter 2 for how to submit an application.

New evidence

This evidence should be new and not evidence included in your original application. You should provide this evidence in response to the UK Government email.

Additional information you may wish to gather to include with your review application:

- If you have not already provided a statement – it may be helpful to submit a statement with your review application, providing additional information about your employment or work with the UK Government and the risks you face if you were to remain in or return to Afghanistan. Appendix 2 includes a template that you may wish to use.
- You should also provide any additional evidence you have which proves your employment or work with the UK Government and any evidence demonstrating that you are at risk if you return to, or stay in, Afghanistan (see the Evidence section in the template at Appendix 2 for suggested documents you may provide to support your application).
- Any reasons related to the risk you face in Afghanistan (which may be why you couldn't gather evidence) that may be relevant.

Alternatively, you can consider other safe and legal routes to come to the UK. See the Further Resources in this guide.

Chapter 8

If your application is granted, what next?

If your ARAP application is successful, you will receive a letter with a Relocation Offer. An example of a letter with a relocation offer is set out in Appendix 3. Note that this is an example of a letter and your relocation letter may look different to this.

Your Relocation Offer will set out the process that you need to follow and the steps that you need to take to obtain a visa and travel to the UK. While each Relocation Offer may be different, below is some general guidance on accepting your Relocation Offer and travelling to the UK.

An application will also be made on your behalf to the Home Office for biometric enrolment and security checks.

8.1 Accepting the Relocation Offer and providing the documents requested

To accept your Relocation Offer you must email the email address set out in your Relocation Offer (usually ARAP-casework@mod.gov.uk, but please check your Relocation Offer):

- including copies of the documents requested; and
- confirming your current location.

Your Relocation Offer will include a list of the copies of documents that you need to provide in order to travel to the UK.

Such documents may include scanned copies of:

- passports and/or identity documents for you and your family members (if applicable);
- marriage certificate (if applicable); and/or
- birth certificates for any children relocating (if applicable).

If you do not have the requested documents, the UK Government may not be able to help you get these. You should try and find these yourself at the earliest possible opportunity but only if you can do so safely. If you cannot provide these documents you should explain why.

For birth certificates, paper Tazkiras and marriage certificates that are not in English, please provide translations of these if possible.

8.2 If you are located outside the UK when you receive your Relocation Offer

Once you have accepted the Relocation Offer and submitted the required documents, a member of the DARR Team will be in touch to provide you with further information and guidance in relation to relocating you to the UK.

The documents you will need will depend on:

- the country where you are currently located; and
- any countries which you are transiting through before travelling to the UK.

If you are still in Afghanistan, the UK Government is generally not able to help with your evacuation to the UK (whether directly or via another country).

You should try and do all that you can (to the extent that it is possible for you to do so safely) to obtain all the required paperwork for you to leave Afghanistan (such as an exit visa, if required), passports and other travel documentation etc).

The DARR Team can provide guidance on what documents you will need and tell you whether the UK Government can help.

8.3 If you are already in the UK when you receive your Relocation Offer

The UK Government has confirmed that for those people that have successfully applied under the ARAP scheme, regardless of when you arrived in the UK, you will be granted indefinite leave to remain.

If you arrived in the UK before September 2021 under ARAP or the ex-gratia scheme, you may have been granted temporary permission to remain in the UK. If this is the case, you can apply for indefinite leave to remain.

If you have been granted limited leave, you may apply for settlement free of charge.

The current advice is to contact afghanresettlementinfo@homeoffice.gov.uk with your details – the resettlement team will get back to you regarding the application process.

8.4 Further visa requirements

Your Relocation Offer is conditional upon a successful visa application by you (and any accompanying family members). This is just a formality in most cases and involves the UK Government undertaking basic security checks, so they are likely to ask about any other employment you have had; this is not in order to check your eligibility under ARAP but just to check that you have not been involved in any serious criminality, terrorism or other illegal activity that would lead to your case being refused.

The DARR Team will provide you with further information on what is required but this will generally be less information than you needed for your ARAP application.

You will also be required to provide biometric information (such as fingerprints) for yourself and any accompanying family members.

8.5 Relocation package

Your Relocation Offer should detail the relocation package that you will receive. Relocation typically involves:

- paid travel to the UK;
- permanent accommodation (although you may initially be in temporary accommodation while this is sourced); and
- indefinite leave to remain in the UK, which means you have:
 - permission to work;
 - eligibility to apply for UK benefits;
 - access to healthcare and education; and
 - support and assistance in finding housing, work and navigating the UK systems.

Key terms

- AFM Application means the additional family member application referred to in Chapter 4.2.
- AFM rules/additional family member rules means the additional family member immigration rules.
- APBI means the Afghan Pro Bono Initiative.
- ARAP means the Afghan Relocations and Assistance Policy.
- ARAP Team means the UK Government's casework team working on ARAP applications.
- DARR Team means the UK Government's Ministry of Defence Afghan Relocation and Resettlement team working on ARAP eligibility and relocations.
- SAR means a subject access request.
- Relocation Offer means an offer to relocate to the UK under ARAP.

Appendix 1

Application for relocation to the United Kingdom under ARAP

This form is in use from 28/03/25. Application is for assessment of eligibility under the Afghan Relocation and Assistance Policy (ARAP). Please apply via this form for assistance or relocation to the United Kingdom under the ARAP if you worked for or alongside the UK Government in Afghanistan. Before applying, please read the guidance on the UK Government website here: Afghan Relocations and Assistance Policy: further information on eligibility criteria, offer details and how to apply (www.gov.uk/government/publications/afghan-relocations-and-assistance-policy/afghan-relocations-and-assistance-policy-information-and-guidance/)

Please only complete this form if you have carefully considered the eligibility criteria and how this relates to your own experience and role working for or alongside the UK Government in Afghanistan.

If you do not meet the ARAP eligibility criteria then do not complete this form.

The ARAP application form has changed we have removed some questions from 12/04/24. You will still have the opportunity to provide us with this information, as after you submit your application we will contact you from a gov.uk email address to request further information. If you are contacted from any other email address do not respond. Your decision will be made on the information you return. If you fail to respond to our requests for information we will reject your application as a decision will not be possible against the eligibility criteria.

If you are eligible, we will contact you to get further information regarding any family members you would like to include in your application. If you relocate to the UK under the ARAP, family members not included in your ARAP application who wish to join you later must make an application to the Home Office under the family Immigration Rules: Family visas: apply, extend or switch: Welcome to GOV.UK (www.gov.uk).

We will inform you of the outcome of your application as soon as a decision is made. If you have submitted an application and are currently awaiting a decision, please note we are currently working through applications as quickly as possible. Due to the volume of applications received, we are unable to provide an update on the status of your application to the ARAP.

If you have received the outcome of your eligibility assessment and would like to request a review of the decision, please use the "Request a Review" form. Any data you provide will be processed in line with the MOD Privacy Notice. Further details can be found at the following link: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/ministry-of-defence-privacy-notice/mod-privacy-notice> If you are eligible for relocation to the UK, an application will be made on your behalf to the Home Office for a visa.

Data will be processed in line with the Home Office Privacy Notice. Further details can be found at the following link: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/personal-information-use-in-borders-immigration-and-citizenship>. This is not an application for entry clearance, permission to stay or settlement on any other basis, including for leave outside of the Immigration Rules.

Please check the email address is correct and can receive incoming emails. You should hear from us within 1 week of submitting your application if this is not a repeat application. If you do not, it is likely we have been unable to contact you with the contact details you supplied and you will need to submit a new application. DO NOT submit more applications before this timeframe.

Appendix 2

Template ARAP statement

Witness Statement of [Name]

[Date]

1. Introduction

[Note: This section should include basic information about you]

My name is [Name] and my date of birth is [XX]. I am an Afghan national.

I live in [XX] with [details of any dependants, including their names and dates of birth].

[Explain in a couple of sentences what your job was in Afghanistan, your current living circumstances and what you think would happen to you if you went back to, or stayed in, Afghanistan.]

2. My Career

[Provide a history of your jobs in Afghanistan, including all employer details, roles and dates to the best of your knowledge. If you are applying under Category 4, you should explain how your role contributed to the UK's military objectives or national security objectives (eg, counter-terrorism, counter-narcotics and anti-corruption) in Afghanistan].

[You should explain what it is about your role working with the UK Government that exposes you to risk if you return to, or stay in, Afghanistan. If you are able to give any examples of actual risks or events that have occurred due to your role (for example, if the Taliban has searched your house, sent a threatening letter or made threatening phone calls), you should include details about this].

3. Current Circumstances

[Provide details about your current circumstances eg, where you are living, who you are living with, how you are supporting yourself and your family etc. If you are outside of Afghanistan, you should include any concerns you have about staying in the country you are in.]

4. What would happen if [I stayed in Afghanistan/returned to Afghanistan]

[Provide details of why you are at risk of persecution if you return to, or stay in, Afghanistan. This can also include examples of any threats or harassment, or information about how you know others have been treated who held a similar job to you].

5. Evidence

[Provide a list of any supporting evidence you have. This could include copies of ID documents (passports, Tazkiras) for you and your dependants, marriage certificates (including translation), any evidence of cohabitation/support provided to dependants, documents relating to your employment or work with the UK Government in Afghanistan (eg, contracts, letters confirming your employment, supporting letters from UK colleagues you worked with, payslips, evidence of training courses, work ID cards). You may also want to include evidence demonstrating that you are at risk if you return to, or stay in, Afghanistan (if available), for example, any threatening letters from the Taliban].

Yours faithfully,
